

Analytics Essentials

Analyze data real-time, directly in your Dynamics environment.

Many logistics service providers leave data analysis untapped potential. A pity, because by analyzing the available data, you can see where the bottlenecks lie in your processes and immediately anticipate them effectively. But how do you gain insight into your data? How do you collect all data into a well-organized whole? In short, how do you use your digital data to your advantage?

Get started with Analytics Essentials and get real-time insight into your logistics activities. On the basis of various screens that are fully focused on your database, you have an overview of your daily activities and processes in no time, so that you can steer and adapt quickly. The screens are easy to add to your Dynamics environment. What are you waiting for?

Translate data into useful knowledge

Analytics Essentials is an analytical tool that makes data insightful with various overviews, directly in your Dynamics environment. Data from different tables are brought together in one structured screen. With a real-time insight into your daily activities, you can effortlessly track your progress throughout the day. This way you can immediately see where you need to make adjustments or where efficiency gains can be achieved.

Based on your database

Experience the convenience of always having access to data insights, from your desk or while on the go. The module works directly in your Dynamics application, with all the associated advantages: no complex analyzes, but user-friendly screens with the look & feel you are used to. Data analysis has never been easier!

Create a data culture in your organization

Working data-oriented enables quick, measured decisions. Explore your data with insightful screens. Convince your colleagues with facts, and improve your processes.

Generic data screens for everyone

In the standard set of the Essentials module, screens have been developed specifically for logistics service providers. Analytics Essentials is developed and optimized on customer demand. Are we creating a new data overview? Then it will be available to everyone from the next update. This way you always have the most relevant and up-to-date insights available for logistics service providers.

Current available data overviews

With the Analytics Essentials module, a series of standard screens will be available in your Dynamics environment. It is possible to zoom in from this data and explore the underlying and more detailed data.

A selection of the available screens

Workload screens for your warehouse: with the help of the workload screens for your warehouse, you get insight per warehouse on how many tasks are open, how many employees are active and what the performance of the tasks is.

Workload screens per customer: you can see per customer how many pick orders are open, how many goods have to be picked and how many employees are working for your customer.

Workload screens for transport: you will have all information about your planned and completed trips at hand. This way you will receive answers to questions such as: what is the status of the trip? What is the number of carriers expected? Or how many receipts are in this ride?

Workload screens scan employees: the progress, steering and activity of your scan employees can easily be mapped with the screens in the module.

Customs: you always have real-time insight into stock levels and linked documents per customs file.

VAL activities: per document or output line you get insight into the progress of the activities, the waste, the costs, the revenues, the margin, the number of hours and much more.

From data towards a successful strategy

When you use your digital data to your advantage, you know in no time where profit can be made. You can switch quickly and anticipate your progress throughout the day. Without any doubts afterwards.
